

Quim Serrabassa (Spain) Young Clippers International Challenge.

Quim's name is familiar to producers supplying the Spanish dairy heifer market, breeders interested in shows, and young European breeders in the process of perfecting their presentation techniques.

He travels widely in France and Spain for his company, Triangle Holstein, as part of a range of commercial operations. Apart from providing one-off breeding advice to clients, in relation to mating, comfort and promotion, he regularly travels to western France to buy dairy heifers and to supply the Spanish market, which continues to exhibit a high level of demand.

A talent seeker, he is the owner and co-owner of several competition cows in many of Europe's most prestigious breeding centres, including Quaini and Beltramino in Italy, and Deru and associates in France, for example. He provides the best care for his investments and ensures they are presented at suitable shows.

He is also known for his grooming and presentation services across Europe and North America. For the fourth time, this expert and trainer shared his knowledge with trainees from 15 countries at the Battice Young Breeders College in 2008.

Playing a vital role in building the reputation of animals and their titleholders, based on his extensive knowledge displayed during the heat of the action at shows, cattle breeders call on his know-how and attention to detail for prestigious shows on both continents. One of the last beauties to pass between his capable hands this year was Mische Durham Krystal, the finalist in the Grand Championship at the World Dairy Expo in Madison.
